About fund performance

Investors should always consider performance in relation to the objective of the fund and over periods of at least five years. If a fund has risen in value, it doesn't mean it is meeting its objective – especially if the fund is aiming to outperform a particular benchmark or meet a risk target. The same applies if the fund has fallen in value.

Our risk rating

Above average risk funds typically invest in one single investment type or geographical region, for example regional equities (shares) or global bonds. This means that investors are completely exposed to the performance of that single investment type or region. These funds could experience lengthy periods where their value goes down depending on market conditions. However, these funds can also rise in value quite significantly and have historically provided good long-term growth. Because of their narrow investment focus, they're better suited to investors with at least five years to invest and to use in combination with other funds as part of a diversified portfolio.

Fund objective

This portfolio aims to provide long-term capital growth while keeping risk in a target volatility range of 12.5-17.5% over a market cycle, which the fund manager defines as being three years or more. The portfolio is built using our Select Sector Portfolios. Each of the Select Sector Portfolios is made up of what the fund manager believes to be the best blend of available funds in their respective sectors. The fund predominantly invests in riskier assets, such as equities (shares in companies), including developed and emerging markets equities. It can also invest to a lesser extent in traditionally lower risk assets, including investment grade corporate bonds, government bonds (gilts) and cash. To be consistent with the target volatility range, the fund would typically be expected to invest between 65-95% in equities. This means it sits towards the upper end of the Select Risk Profile Portfolio range in terms of risk and long-term growth potential. The underlying assumptions that support the volatility and equity ranges are at the fund manager's discretion and are subject to change.

Risks specific to this fund

There is no guarantee the fund will meet its objective. The value of an investment can fall as well as rise and investors could get back less than they originally invested. All funds carry a level of risk and the information below outlines the key risks for this fund.

Currency risk - this fund invests overseas so its value will go up and down in line with changes in currency exchange rates. This could be good for the fund or bad, particularly if exchange rates are volatile.

Third party risk - in the event that the underlying investments which the fund invests in suspend trading, Aegon may defer trading and/or payment to investors. The value ultimately payable will depend on the amount Aegon receives or expects to receive from the underlying investments.

Credit risk - this fund invests in bonds or other types of debt. Bonds are essentially loans to companies, governments or local authorities so there's a risk that these companies or government bodies may default on the loan. Bonds are rated in terms of quality, usually from AAA down to B and below. AAA is the highest quality and therefore the least likely to default and B or lower the most likely to default. Where we have it we show the credit quality of the loans held by this fund.

Interest rate risk - interest rate changes could affect the value of bond investments. Where long term interest rates rise, the value of bonds is likely to fall, and vice versa.

Target risk - the fund may sit outside its risk target at times, for example if risk in the markets is unusually high or low. The risk target is long term, so the manager wouldn't increase or decrease the fund's risk just to meet its risk target in the short term.
