Benchmark

Benchmark: Investment Association Global Emerging Markets Bond Blended Sector*

This is a Comparator Benchmark. Given its asset allocation the Fund's performance can be compared against the Benchmark. However, the Fund is actively managed and is not constrained by any benchmark.

* Many funds sold in the UK are grouped into sectors by the Investment Association (the trade body that represents UK investment managers), to facilitate comparison between funds with broadly similar characteristics.

On 1 January 2020, as a result of the Investment Association splitting the Investment Association Global Emerging Markets Bond Sector into three sectors, the Comparator Benchmark of the fund changed from the Investment Association Global Emerging Markets Bond Sector to the Investment Association Global Emerging Markets Bonds - Blended Sector.

Fund investment objective and policy

The objective of the Fund is to achieve income and capital growth over the medium to long-term (3 to 5 years plus). The Fund invests at least 80% of its assets in corporate and government debt securities (which may be investment grade, non-investment grade or have no credit rating) in emerging markets globally. The Fund may use derivatives (complex instruments) for investment purposes and to manage the Fund more efficiently, with the aim of reducing risk, reducing costs and/or generating additional capital or income.

Fund strategy

The fund aims to achieve growth of income and capital by investing across the full range of emerging market fixed income opportunities. This means that the fund invests in both local and hard currency bonds. Exposure is sought through government, quasi-government and corporate bonds. Portfolio management is based on top-down, macroeconomic and political analysis as well as bottom-up research of individual securities and issuers. These positions may be either high yield or investment grade.

Investment risks

- The value of investments and any income will fluctuate (this may partly be the result of exchange rate fluctuations) and investors may not get back the full amount invested.
- The securities that the Fund invests in may not always make interest and other payments nor is the solvency of the issuers guaranteed. Market conditions, such as a decrease in market liquidity for the securities in which the Fund invests, may mean that the Fund may not be able to sell those securities at their true value. These risks increase where the Fund invests in high yield or lower credit quality bonds.
- The fund invests in emerging and developing markets, where there is potential for a decrease in market liquidity, which may mean that it is not easy to buy or sell securities. There may also be difficulties in dealing and settlement, and custody problems could arise.
- The fund has the ability to make use of financial derivatives (complex instruments) which may result in the fund being leveraged and can result in large fluctuations in the value of the fund. Leverage on certain types of transactions including derivatives may impair the fund's liquidity, cause it to liquidate positions at unfavourable times or otherwise cause the fund not to achieve its intended objective. Leverage occurs when the economic exposure created by the use of derivatives is greater than the amount invested resulting in the fund being exposed to a greater loss than the initial investment.
- The fund may be exposed to counterparty risk should an entity with which the fund does business become insolvent resulting in financial loss.
- As one of the key objectives of the fund is to provide income, the fund management fee is taken from capital rather than income. This can erode capital and reduce the potential for capital growth.
- The fund's performance may be adversely affected by variations in interest rates.

Important information

- ² The yields shown are expressed as % per annum of current NAV of the fund. They are estimates for the next 12 months, assuming that the fund's portfolio remains unchanged and there are no defaults or deferrals of coupon payments or capital repayments. They are not guaranteed. Investors may be subject to tax on distributions. Cash income is estimated coupons from bonds and, where applicable, estimated dividends from equities.

The distribution yield estimates the cash distribution to the shareholders: in addition to expected cash income, it includes the amortised annual value of unrealised capital gains/losses of current bond holdings, calculated with reference to their historic purchase price and expected redemption value (known as 'effective yield from purchase price' method). The distribution yield for this fund is gross of the ongoing charge, which is charged to capital.

The underlying yield is calculated in the same way as the distribution yield, but is always net of the ongoing charge. The underlying yield for this fund is, therefore, lower than the distribution yield by the amount of the ongoing charge.

Where, in the Manager's judgement, there is significant uncertainty that a bond holding will be redeemed at par, the amortised capital component for that holding is retained in the fund's capital and not distributed. This has the effect of reducing the estimated distribution and underlying yields and the actual distribution rate.
